What Strategies Does Protocol 14 of the Learned Elders of Zion Outline for an "Assault on Religion"?

Sixbert SANGWA • July 24, 2024

The "Protocols of the Learned Elders of Zion" is a document revealing a secret plan for global domination by a covert group. Protocol 14, titled "Assault on Religion," is one of its 24 sections. This protocol is particularly striking for its detailed strategies aimed at undermining the world's moral and spiritual foundations. The plan seemingly intends to alter God's creation and surrender the world to Lucifer. As Christians committed to uncovering spiritual truths, it's vital to comprehend and expose the strategies outlined in this protocol. We must recognize their historical influence on geopolitics and consider their implications for today's world.

The Singular Religion and Suppression of Others

The first provision of Protocol 14 asserts the necessity of establishing a singular religion under the rule of this covert group, identified as the "Chosen People." It states:

> "When we come into our kingdom it will be undesirable for us that there should exist any other religion than ours of the One God with whom our destiny is bound up by our position as the Chosen People and through whom our same destiny is united with the destinies of the world. We must therefore sweep away all other forms of belief."

This provision highlights an intent to eradicate all religious beliefs that don't align with their own. They view the rise of atheism as merely a transitional phase—a cautionary tale for future generations about the purported benefits of their religious system. This notion echoes the biblical warning in 2 Thessalonians 2:3-4, which foretells a future rebellion and the emergence of the "man of lawlessness" who will exalt himself above all that is called God.

In today's society, we see a marked increase in secularism and atheism, leading to the marginalization of religious beliefs, especially Christianity. In the name of maintaining secularism, public institutions often exclude religious expressions, effectively suppressing religious freedom. This trend is evident in lawsuits and legislative actions that seek to remove religious symbols from public spaces and limit prayer in schools. Such efforts can be interpreted as part of a wider agenda to diminish Christianity's influence and promote a more homogeneous, secular worldview.

Manipulating Perception and Historical Revisionism

The protocol outlines a strategy to control public perception by contrasting their rule with the supposed failures of previous governments. They plan to instill a preference for their "tranquility," even if it means living in a state of serfdom, by highlighting the errors of other forms of governance:

> "The errors of the GOYIM governments will be depicted by us in the most vivid hues. We shall implant such an abhorrence of them that the peoples will prefer tranquility in a state of serfdom to those rights of vaunted freedom which have tortured humanity and exhausted the very sources of human existence."

Modern media often highlights the failures and flaws of democratic governments, emphasizing social and economic inequalities, political corruption, and other issues. This relentless focus on the negative aspects of governance can lead to disillusionment with democratic systems. The rise of authoritarian regimes and the preference for strong, central leadership in various parts of the world indicate a growing desire for stability over democratic freedoms. Historical revisionism is also prevalent, with educational curricula and media narratives being altered to fit particular ideological agendas, often downplaying the positive contributions of past democratic governance. This manipulation demonstrates the implementation of this long-standing strategy, echoing the deception warned about in Isaiah 5:20, "Woe to those who call evil good and good evil, who put darkness for light and light for darkness."

Undermining Christian Faith and Promoting False Philosophies

One of the most alarming aspects of Protocol 14 is its plan to forbid Christ and denigrate Christian beliefs while promoting their own philosophies as superior:

> "Our philosophers will discuss all the shortcomings of the various beliefs of the 'GOYIM,' BUT NO ONE WILL EVER BRING UNDER DISCUSSION OUR FAITH FROM ITS TRUE POINT OF VIEW SINCE THIS WILL BE FULLY LEARNED BY NONE SAVE OURS WHO WILL NEVER DARE TO BETRAY ITS SECRETS."

This agenda directly opposes the Christian commission to "go and make disciples of all nations" (Matthew 28:19-20). The protocol's strategy aims to create a one-sided narrative where the Christian faith is undermined and misrepresented, preventing a true understanding of its teachings. Today, in academia and public discourse, Christianity often faces criticism and misrepresentation, while alternative philosophies and religions are promoted as more enlightened or progressive. Courses on religion in many universities scrutinize Christianity's historical and doctrinal issues while presenting other belief systems more favorably. Media and popular culture frequently portray Christianity in a negative light, emphasizing scandals and controversies involving Christian leaders and institutions, thus undermining the faith's credibility.

Additionally, ecumenism and inter-faith movements, under the guise of promoting fraternity and religious unity, often advance a pluralistic view of God. This dilutes Christian doctrine and paves the way for a one-world religion at the expense of biblical truth. These efforts contribute to the erosion of Christianity's distinctiveness, promoting a homogenized religious landscape that aligns with the agenda outlined in Protocol 14.

Promoting Immorality through Literature and Media

Protocol 14 also details a plan to corrupt societies through immoral literature and media, creating a stark contrast to the "exalted" messages they intend to promote later:

> "IN COUNTRIES KNOWN AS PROGRESSIVE AND ENLIGHTENED WE HAVE CREATED A SENSELESS, FILTHY, ABOMINABLE LITERATURE."

The prevalence of explicit content in literature, television, movies, and online media is a testament to this provision. Modern entertainment often glorifies violence, sexual immorality, and other behaviors contrary to Christian values. This widespread exposure to immoral content desensitizes individuals and erodes traditional moral values. Platforms like social media amplify these messages, making them accessible to a global audience, thereby normalizing behaviors that were once considered taboo. The spread of such content is meant to degrade moral values and create a vacuum that can be filled by their doctrines. This tactic aligns with the biblical observation in Proverbs 14:34, "Righteousness exalts a nation, but sin condemns any people."

Historical Impact and Modern Implications

The strategies outlined in Protocol 14 have arguably shaped various aspects of geopolitics and societal developments. By undermining Christian values and promoting atheism and immorality, these plans have led to significant cultural and moral shifts. The rise of secularism, moral relativism, and the marginalization of Christian perspectives in public discourse can be seen as manifestations of these strategies.

In today's context, we witness increasing efforts to suppress religious expressions, particularly those aligned with Christian values. The promotion of ideologies that conflict with biblical teachings on family, sexuality, and morality reflects the ongoing influence of these sinister strategies. The global push for progressive values often comes at the expense of traditional Christian principles, furthering the agenda described in Protocol 14.

Conclusion

As Christians, it is our duty to remain vigilant and discerning, recognizing the spiritual battle at play. Ephesians 6:12 reminds us, "For our struggle is not against flesh and blood, but against the rulers, against the authorities, against the powers of this dark world and against the spiritual forces of evil in the heavenly realms." By understanding the provisions of Protocol 14 and their historical and modern implications, we can better equip ourselves to stand firm in our faith and expose the deceptive tactics at work in our world today.

Revelation 17 vividly describes the great prostitute, an end-time false religion symbolizing spiritual adultery and corruption, guiding the world away from true doctrine. This "mother of all prostitutes" represents a combination of all religions led astray by the Antichrist, the ruler of the great city of Babylon. Revelation 17:4-5 says, "The woman was dressed in purple and scarlet, and was glittering with gold, precious stones and pearls. She held a golden cup in her hand, filled with abominable things and the filth of her adulteries. The name written on her forehead was a mystery: Babylon the Great, the Mother of Prostitutes and of the Abominations of the Earth." This verse alludes to today's allurements of hedonism, materialism, and abominations. The mysterious name makes it difficult for people to recognize these as sins and deceptions, particularly those who are heading towards destruction.

As the Rapture approaches, Christians are advised to be vigilant and come out of Babylon, heeding the warning in Revelation 18:4, "Come out of her, my people, so that you will not share in her sins, so that you will not receive any of her plagues." This separation is crucial to avoid the fate of the foolish virgins and escape the devil's judgment. Let us continue to seek truth, grounded in the Word of God, and shine His light in these challenging times.
